5 Ways to Use It—Indoors and Out!

Spill-Proof Seating “You don’t need to sacrifice style for practicality,” says New York designer Courtney McLeod, who uses outdoor fabric on sofas and barstools.

Fade-Proof Curtains As Palm Beach designer Krista Watterworth Alterman explains, “the sun can damage drapery, so it’s a practical option.”

Multifunctional Ottomans Love using yours as both a spare seat and a makeshift table? Cover it in a durable fabric so it doesn’t stain.

Cleaner Headboards You wash your pillowcases regularly, but not the headboard. A performance fabric (Massachusetts-based Erin Gates loves a linen look) won’t show grease.
