Living and Dining Room/Residence 202 Designers Courtney McLeod (Right Meets Left Interior Design), Samantha Gore (Samantha Gore Interiors + Design), and Jennifer Levy (CAV Design), formed a design collective called Atelier 20, and together they collaborated on a portfolio of beautiful spaces for the showhouse. The open plan living and dining room (LEFT AND ABOVE) is the first area that greets visitors upon entering Unit 202 thus deserved a touch of drama. A graphic light fixture and multi-hued wallpaper set the stage for the updated silhouettes and prismatic tones woven throughout the open plan. The living room is designed as a cosmopolitan social space with a sleek linear fireplace and flexible seating options. Equally perfect for a cozy evening by the fire or a party of ten, this room is an ideal backdrop for friends, family, and fun. The designers explain their work together as a great opportunity. "A collaboration between three designers is an unusual arrangement for a showhouse, and we were curious how our differences in style would play out. Happily we found the experience of working as a team to be energizing and a great opportunity to combine our different approaches. We created a natural flow between the spaces, and part of our shared vision was to create a space that felt like a home, not a series of disconnected moments."

The Kitchen/Residence 202, also designed by McLeod, Gore, and Levy, is punctuated by dark cabinets, offset by brilliant white countertops and a marble backsplash.

The Guest Bedroom/Residence 202
The Guest Bedroom is a welcoming sanctuary for overnight guests. Painterly floral wallpaper complements a textural upholstered headboard, while soft graphic curtains blend traditional and contemporary elements.

The Den/Residence 202
The designers met the challenge of this interior room by exploring deep, rich colors and natural materials. Perfect for quiet nights in, deep blue walls are set off by a luscious coral ceiling color, creating a space that both embraces and nourishes. An oversized woven light fixture, sisal carpet and an edgy patent leather sofa are set off by colorful floral cushions.
